

Author's Acknowledgement and Acceptance of Standard Conditions Agreement

1. You agree to submit a paper to be published for the ACMP Change Management Conference taking place April 28 - May 1, 2019. Your submission is due no later than Saturday, December 31, 2018.
2. You agree to author an original paper and represent that you own all rights to the content, free of all claims, liens and encumbrances and have full power to execute this Agreement. If you do not own any part of the content submitted, you agree to obtain any permission or clearance required for the content of your paper by your employer, the owner of the content or any other necessary organization or individual in writing prior to submitting the paper to ACMP, and submit such verification with your submittal.
3. If your paper is a work for hire or is based on your work with another company, you agree that you are the sole author(s) and that the owner of the content (the organization(s) cited in the paper) has granted express written permission for this content to be submitted and distributed at the Annual Conference. This written permission must be provided to ACMP with your submission of the paper.
4. You agree to author a paper that has not already been published prior to the date of the 2019 Change Management Conference (April 2019).
5. You represent that your paper does not infringe on the statutory copyright or common law literary rights of others, or violate the rights of privacy or libel other persons or otherwise violate any other intellectual property rights. If the paper contains copyrighted material owned by a third party, you agree to obtain written permission from the copyright owner to use the copyrighted material prior to December 1, 2018 and shall promptly deliver such written permission to ACMP. You agree that your paper will be educational in nature and will not disparage or damage the reputation of any other model, tool or organization.
6. You agree to indemnify and hold harmless ACMP, its employees, licensees, assignees and contractors in any action arising out of facts which constitute a breach of the aforementioned representations and warranties, and hold them harmless for any and all third party claims, damages, liabilities, costs, charges and expenses including reasonable attorneys' fees arising out of any breach of the aforementioned representations and warranties or relating to the content of the paper.
7. You grant ACMP the limited rights to include your paper in the conference proceedings in hard-copy and/or electronic format. A copy of your paper will be available for download by registered Conference participants both prior to and after the Annual Conference for a limited time. Additionally, ACMP will also provide access to your paper through its Resource Library. Your name, topic, and short biography can be added to the conference website and materials, and may also be available through the Resource Library.
